ABOUT ME

I am a motivated problem solver and teamplayer that is ready to dive into the world of data. Graduating from the Nashville Software School's Data Analytics bootcamp program, I gained skills in SQL, Python, and Excel. I am seeking to employ these skills and further myself in a career of Data Analysis / Data Science. My primary professional focus is to find a career that will allow me to keep exploring and progressing in the world of data analysis. I enjoy problem-solving, working in groups, and am eager to learn.
